AID CONSOLIDATION

P-T. A. PLANS CIRCULATION OF PETITIONS TO UNITE SCHOOL DISTRICTS

A meeting of the Glendale Federation P-T. A. was held Monday, January 21st at 2:15 p. m., in the library of the Intermediate School, Mrs. Arthur Brown presiding.

After the salute to the flag the chairmen of the various committees and presidents of the individual P-T. A.'s made their reports which were a revelation as to the wonderful work done. It is a noteworthy fact that for service, loyalty and conscientious cooperation, Glendale is second to none in this glorious activity directed by its president, Mrs. Arthur Brown, and so ably carried out by her efficient chairmen.

Mrs. Hartley Shaw requested the assistance of the Federation for the circulation of a petition requiring the signatures of the heads of households in Glendale for the purpose of consolidating the Tropic and Glendale School Districts. The Federation evolved a plan to solve the problem which will be heartily carried out.

The president announced a patriotic meeting for February.

A subscription for a magazine, to be selected, was donated by the Federation to the soldier boys at San Pedro.

Mrs. A. A. Barton announced a series of food demonstrations by Mrs. Jessica Hazzard for Tuesday mornings to take place at the City Hall.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Several young friends planned a delightful surprise party for Harold J. Russell, 343 N. Maryland avenue, last Friday evening to celebrate his birthday. Dancing and stunts were features of the evening. Delicious refreshments were served by Russell's mother, Dr. Jessie A. Russell, who had been consulted in the plans for the evening. Among those present besides the host were the Misses Mary Logan, Harriett Barnes, Marcella Miller, Christina Ferris, Martha Ray, Ruby Hay, Louise Ferris, Mildred Whitaker, Editha K. Atchinson and Miss Risman, Messrs. Russell Tummel, Marshall Pearson, Charleston White, Guy Richards, Mansford Barnes, Stanley Herdman, Harry Wilson, Irving Westwood.

SOUTH DAKOTA PICNIC

The annual picnic of the South Dakota State Society will be held at Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, Saturday January 26th. All South Dakota people are invited to attend, bringing lunch. Coffee will be served on the grounds. Further information can be had by addressing the president, C. E. Johnson, 507 South Spring Street, Los Angeles, Tel. Main 628.

SURPRISE DR. RAND

SANITARIUM BAND SERENADES WHILE MANY DO HONOR TO PHYSICIAN

Friends of Dr. H. F. Rand joined Monday night in a surprise party at his home, 452 East Second street. While the Glendale Sanitarium Band serenaded, the large company, including many sanitarium nurses, made their presence known, and were cordially received. Clarence H. Jones presented the physician with a black leather emergency bag, set of surgical instruments, medicines and supplies, the gift of his many friends.

The program of the evening included a piano duet, "Lustspiel" Overture by Keler Bela, which was well rendered by Misses Vivian and Ernestine Volkens; a recitation by Miss Fern Evans, "Elsie Mungus Lips"; cornet solo by Howard A. Young, "Calvary"; a recitation by Miss Ernestine Volkens, "Holding a Baby," and a reading by Mrs. Florence Merrill entitled, "Hand-me-downs."

SOLDIER ROSTER

This paper would like to have a complete roster of all men from this locality who are in service in American camps, on the sea or in France. Any parent or friend who has knowledge of men who should be in the list but whose names do not appear there, will be conferring a favor on the men, the Evening News and the public by advising us of the names, the Glendale address and the present service of these men. We want the list to be complete but cannot make it so unless citizens who have the information we require will co-operate with us.

It is not much trouble to call this office on the telephone, Glendale 132, and give us the facts.

OUR PATRIOTIC ISLANDS

FILIPINOS SUBSCRIBE $4,000.000 FOR LIBERTY LOAN BONDS

Chairman Lawshe, Vice President of the Glendale Red Cross Chapter and its business manager, has drafted into service his old friend Carson Taylor, who was associated with him at the St. Louis World's Fair and in the Philippines, and who is now helping him to put in good order the books of the chapter.

Mr. Taylor is in California for the purpose of purchasing equipment for the daily paper he is publishing in Manila, which has given him an exceptionally good opportunity to become posted on island affairs. When asked about Red Cross organization there, he said:

"We have many nationalities there and before the United States went into the war they were continually doing something either for the British, the French or the Belgians and occasionally the Germans, of whom we have quite a few, gave benefits for their people. When America went into the war they were authorized by the National Red Cross to appoint a committee. They began work with that committee as soon as war was declared. The Manila Hotel gave them a large room, they got a number of sewing machines, some knitting machines and began the work of rolling bandages, knitting, and turning out various other things. Their shipments are made through the Suez Canal direct to Europe now. At first they were sent here.

"Manila has had an annual carnival ever since the year 1907. It is a stock corporation affair, not as a money making enterprise but as an enterprise for the people and it lasts a week. People come from as far as Hong Kong and Shanghai to attend it. This year it was debated whether it would be advisable to have a carnival on account of the war. Many thought the money should be saved and expended in some other way. But they finally decided to have it and gave fifty per cent. of the profits to the Red Cross. It is expected to net the local Red Cross Committee 25,000 pesos, or $12,500 in gold. It will come off in February.

"We have now organized a Manila Chapter. We had a drive for memberships in October and secured a large enrollment. Nearly all that money was sent to the Red Cross. "We had a good deal of criticism because some one suggested a race meet. The Philippines have a Sunday Race Meet once a month and on holidays. The Race Track Company volunteered to give its receipts for one day to the Red Cross, so they made it a kind of society event, the commanding general of the army attended, and the receipts of that one day, about 12,000 pesos, all went to the Red Cross.

"Just before I left we had a Liberty Loan Drive. For the first Liberty Loan about 2,000,000 pesos were subscribed. It wasn't pushed very much and no pains were taken to interest the Philippines. For the second loan they formed a large committee. The Philippines became interested and subscribed liberally and 6,000,000 pesos of bonds were sold making 8,000,000 pesos altogether, or $4,000,000 in and around Manila. The Manila Elks, with a membership of 300 subscribed 140,000 pesos or $70,000."

INCOME TAX BLANKS

School teachers of Glendale, under the direction of Superintendent Richardson D. White have volunteered their services to help in explaining to the public the federal income tax, and Mr. White states that they will begin with a meeting which will be held Thursday evening, January 24, in the Intermediate School Auditorium at 8 o'clock.

The speaker will be Sherman Jones, Chief Deputy International Revenue Collector who will explain fully the blanks to be filled out and will answer any questions. The public is urged to be present at that meeting.

Arrangements will be made under which certain evenings will be designated at which the teachers will be on duty at the Intermediate School to assist any persons who desire aid in filling out blanks for the income tax. This is a joint service which will be rendered by teachers of both the High School and the grammar schools.

MUST WIN THE WAR

All eyes are turned toward Washington now wondering just what action the United States Senate will take on certain measures now before them. Whatever our law makers do they should be careful to stand united on winning the war that is now put up to them to settle.

U. S. MAKES PROTEST TO CHINA

AMERICAN SAILOR KILLED WHEN CHINESE REVOLUTIONISTS FIRE ON UNITED STATE GUNBOAT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, January 22.—Firing on a United States gunboat by Chinese, in which one sailor was killed and two others wounded, was made the subject of a formal protest to the Chinese government by the American minister.

The attack on the American vessel took place on the Yanktse Kiang river by revolutionists. The United States demands the rebels be punished.

AMERICAN SOLDIER KILLED

GENERAL PERSHING REPORTS TO WAR DEPARTMENT THAT WALTER ROBERTS WAS KILLED IN ACTION

WASHINGTON, January 22.—Corp. Walter Roberts was killed in infantry action on the French front Sunday, General Pershing cabled the war department today.

The cable did not give any details of the fighting. It is assumed that Roberts was one of the Americans in the front line trenches. Roberts formerly lived in Hartline, Wash.

Eight other deaths from natural causes were also reported by General Pershing at the same time.

TRANSPORTATION CONDITIONS UNCHANGED

HEAVY SNOWS ALONG THE ATLANTIC COAST AID IN MAKING COAL SITUATION MORE SERIOUS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, January 22.—Heavy snows along the eastern seaboard dealt severe blows at railroad operation again today.

The transportation situation throughout the country east of the Mississippi is hopelessly unchanged.

A conference will be held by officials to determine the next step.

BIG DETROIT ROBBERY

THREE DAYLIGHT BANDITS OVERPOWER MANAGER OF JEWELRY STORE AND TAKE LOOT VALUED AT $60,000

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
DETROIT, January 22.—Sixty thousand dollars' worth of jewels were stolen shortly before noon today by three bandits.

The robbers overpowered the manager of a downtown jewelry store and escaped with their haul.

IRISH QUESTION LOOMS AGAIN

RESIGNATION OF SIR EDWARD CARSON NOT DUE TO CONDUCT OF WAR BUT TO HOME RULE QUESTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, January 22.—The Irish question loomed again as likely to embarrass the government, with Sir. Edward Carson, uncompromising opponent of Home Rule, out of the war cabinet.

Carson's resignation was due, he said, to the Irish question and not to any opposition on his part as to the conduct of the war.

NEW PLAN FOR RAILROAD CONTROL

WOULD FORM CORPORATION TO TAKE OVER RAILROADS AND OPERATE UNDER GOVERNMENT SUPERVISION

WASHINGTON, January 22.—With the question of government ownership of railroads before Congress, the Interstate Commerce commission had a new plan before it this afternoon.

It is proposed that a United States corporation be formed to take over the railroads at their face value and operate them under government supervision. Under this plan stock in the new national corporation would be exchanged at par for railroad stock at market quotations.

A directorate of nine would be appointed by the president to handle all transactions.

PRESIDENT WOULD FIX PRICES

DRAFTS BILL TO WIPE OUT PROFITEERING IN WAR MATERIALS WITH ONE STROKE

WASHINGTON, January 22.—Price fixing on a scale hitherto untried by any nation is provided in the draft of a bill by President Wilson and laid before the House Agricultural committee.

With one stroke the president hopes to wipe out profiteering in food and allied products needed by the people and the government in the conduct of the war. The bill controls both wholesale and retail prices.

Details of the bill are being kept secret.

LAWRENCE DAVIS

FIRST GLENDALE BOY TO DIE IN SERVICE TO BE BURIED WITH MILITARY HONORS

The body of Lawrence Davis, who died Saturday morning, January 12, at Fort Meyer, Virginia, reached Glendale Monday evening and arrangements have been completed for funeral services which will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church of Glendale at Broadway and Cedar street, and conducted by Rev. B. D. Snudden, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Glendale.

It will be a military funeral which will be in charge of Lieutenant D. W. Nicoles, Commander of Company 9, C. A. C. Lower Reserve, San Pedro, who will be accompanied by his entire company. Lieutenant Nicoles is an old and intimate friend of the Davis family and the death of this boy is to him a very personal loss.

Six Glendale boys now in the service will act as pall bearers, three from Camp Kearny and three from San Pedro, those from Camp Kearny being: Lieutenant Louis Leppelman, Corporal Fred Farmer and Private James W. Gibson, all of Battery F, 143d Field Artillery. The three from Fort MacArthur are Sergeant Winthrop Jackson, 9th Company, Coast Artillery, and Privates Miller Fischel and John Carlton Padelford of the Company.

Eight other soldiers under the charge of Corporal Donald Packer of the same Company, will fire the salute at the grave, in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Lawrence Davis was eighteen years old the ninth day of last July. He is the son of Alvin T. and Eugenia Davis of 515 Orange Grove avenue, this city, was born in Winslow, Arizona, and has been a resident of Glendale and was an attendant at its schools for nine years. He was a thoroughly good, wholesome, all around boy, fond of athletic sports and popular with his school mates.

At the time of his enlistment he was in the employ of the Western Auto Electric Company of this city as service boy, a line of work which he enjoyed and in which he made such an excellent record that the Company planned to advance him to a more important position had he remained with it. In speaking of Lawrence the manager said, "He was a fine fellow and we were very sorry to lose him."

Lawrence left here to go to San Francisco to be examined on the 30th of November. He remained in the northern city about two weeks and was then sent to Fort Meyer, Virginia, where he was enrolled in Company D Thirtieth Engineers, and was put into the department where gas bombs are analyzed and studied. He contracted a cold which developed into pneumonia, and death ensued January 12th, as stated, after a very brief illness.

The heartfelt sympathy is with his parents and the sisters who mourn the loss of an only brother, Doris Davis, Mrs. Arthur Knight of Chicago, who is unable to be here, and Mrs. O. F. Black, who has come with her husband and children from her home in San Marcial, New Mexico, to sustain and comfort her parents in this terrible bereavement. Their grief is shared by the many to whom Lawrence had endeared himself during his residence here. He has given his life to his country in as full measure as though he had reached the goal he sought and fallen in battle. His name will not be forgotten but will be enrolled on the gold starred flag of service and in the hearts of his comrades to whom it will be a perpetual inspiration to patriotism.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Wednesday. Killing frosts. Northeasterly winds.

HUNTING TRIP

GLENDALE MEN TRAVEL 575 MILES AND COME BACK WITH-OUT GAME

A party of enthusiastic hunters of Glendale which included Charles W. Kent, Stanley Frenz, H. L. and H. M. Miller, who left this city Saturday morning at 3 o'clock and got back Monday morning at a very early hour, had quite a story to tell of their experiences and adventures.

They traveled 575 miles, in fact were traveling all the time except about twelve hours of the period in which they were gone. On arriving at Owens Lake they found the lake frozen, snow in the mountains, no ducks. Even the water pipes in the town of Keeley had frozen and burst. Their water canteen burst and all the water had to be emptied out of their autos. There was nothing to do but make themselves as comfortable as possible at the Keeley Hotel.

On the way back they observed two ducks on the big Owens River reservoir, fired shots at them and killed both, but the wind was blowing hard and blew the birds so far out they were unable to get them.

They report the roads rough and full of chuck holes which were hard on Mr. Frenz who sat on the back seat and was in the air a considerable part of the time batting his head against the cover and otherwise bruising his anatomy. He is emphatic in declaring that when next he goes hunting in that part of the world it will be in an aeroplane in which traveling will be smoother. The party reached Glendale at 2 a. m. considerably fatigued, lighter in purse and wiser than when they left.

DEATH OF JOHN E. VANDIVER

John E. Vandiver, the popular letter carrier at 1224 West Ninth street, who has been in ill health for many months and who was forced to resign his work last September, died at his home last Sunday.

Funeral services were held this morning (Tuesday) at the Holy Family Church in Glendale and interment was made in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. He and his family had a large circle of friends who deeply sympathize with Mrs. Annie Vandiver, the widow, who is left with a family of four children, the youngest a babe of eight months.

Mr. Vandiver was a native of Missouri and came to Glendale from St. Charles, Mo., nine years ago. He had been in the postal service for twelve years. He made a brave struggle against disease and underwent an operation in the hope of prolonging his life, but it proved unavailing.

The board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce will hold a business meeting at the Chamber of Commerce room, 1010 West Broadway, Wednesday, Jan. 23, 1918, at 7:30 p. m.

MILITARY POLICE

MURRAY DURHAM DESCRIBES TRIALS OF DRILLING ON HORSEBACK

Extracts from a letter from J. Murray Durham who is a member of Co. B, Military Police at Camp Lewis, to his mother, Mrs. J. W. Durham, 1679 W. Seventh street, will interest Murray's many friends. He says:

I have been working pretty hard lately. It has not rained for two days, too cold, I think. We had a three or four mile ride on our horses this morning. As we have not been issued any saddles as yet you can imagine the condition of certain parts of our anatomy. Please send sympathy. As far as I am concerned they can give all the horses to the Kaiser. The breed we have would kill off more Germans than we ever will on them, that's a cinch. You should see the time some of the fellows have when we are drilling on them. The command to halt is given and then the fun starts. Some of the boys ride half a mile before they get their fiery steeds under control. We have only halters so we have to let the beasts take their own sweet time to stop. I was on one the other when he ran away, vaulted over a pile of wood and three railroad tracks. I stood on but that was all that could be said.

I am eating Aunt Ruth's candy now. Aunt Peg sent me a box of things among them a pair of hose supporters. We never use them here as our pants legs are tight and do all the supporting. It was funny to see some of the presents sent to some of the boys. One received a red necktie. Neckties are tabooed in the army during war times.

AMERICAN RED CROSS NAILED GERMAN PROPAGANDA

By George Martin

The American Red Cross nipped a flourishing German propaganda against America in the bud by carrying the Stars and Stripes and needed relief into Italy at the time of Italy's first severe reverses, according to a cable from Major Murphy to Chairman Davison of the Red Cross War Council received in Washington today.

Spies were rapidly spreading the word that America was unfriendly to Italy, didn't care what happened to her and was afraid to antagonize Austria. The people believed the stories. Major Murphy's graphic cable speaks for itself:

"When we reached Italy refugees were streaming down from the North. Indescribably pathetic conditions existed. The unexpected military reverse had stunned the nation. Rumors of all sorts were in the air.

"A vicious propaganda had spread the report that America was not friendly to Italy; that we were not interested in the war and even that we were afraid to antagonize Austria, as well as Germany.

"America apparently had no available means of expression. Congress was not in session. Our army could not act. Fortunately, however, the Red Cross was in a position not only to respond immediately to the call of the suffering, but also to carry the message of the American people to Italy in the hour of her distress.

"Working in conjunction with our own State Department and the Italian Government, we used every available means of supply and distribution to assist the Ally of our country. Within approximately two weeks after our arrival we had established warehouses and branch warehouses to supply all important points.

"We opened shelters for homeless women and children.

"We distributed condensed milk to little children.

"We dispatched three emergency workers on a tour of Italy, with five hundred thousand lire in small bank notes, to give immediate aid where it was needed.

"At the presentation of our first three ambulance sections to the Italian army, through the general of the division, there were represented our own State Department, the French army, the British army, the Italian Red Cross, and the military sanitary department of the government. As our sections passed through the streets on their way to the front, after the ceremony, the streets were filled with enthusiastic crowds and American flags flew everywhere.

"Whatever else we may have done or failed to do we have raised the American flag from one end of Italy to the other, and our youngsters today are doing their part in helping to hold the Piave line."

HARNESSING THE STREAMS

President Wilson has in mind the harnessing of all available streams in the west, especially those in the government reserves, and leasing out the water rights for periods of fifty years or less to develop the power therefrom. He has laid before a conference of house leaders a draft of the proposed plan and it is expected that the measure will be given immediate attention in both branches of the legislature. An outline of what the President proposes is given in a news dispatch as follows:

The bill provides for a commission to be composed of the secretaries of war, interior and agriculture. It proposes to lease the water power privileges on public lands, Indian lands, national forests and in navigable streams for not exceeding fifty years, when the project may be taken over by the United States, again leased to the original lessee or leased to a new lessee. All property owned and held by the lessee at the expiration of the lease, valuable and serviceable in the development or distribution of power, together with any locks or other aids to navigation constructed by the lessee, may be taken over by the government upon the payment of the face value, not to exceed the actual cost of the property taken plus such reasonable damages as may be caused by the separation of the property from valuable property not taken.

Provision is made for regulation by the federal water power commission of interstate power and power in any state where no state regulation is to be had. It requires lessees to pay reasonable annual charges of not less than ten cents per water power horse power per annum.

All receipts from these waterpower licenses are to be placed in the federal treasury. The bill provides that fifty per cent of the proceeds from national forests shall be expended in construction of roads in those forests; fifty per cent of the receipts from public lands are to be placed in the reclamation fund; fifty per cent of receipts from navigable streams to be expended in the maintenance and operation of dams and other navigation structures of the United States and that all proceeds from Indian reservations shall be placed to the credit of the Indians.

WHAT WE LIKE AND WHAT WE NEED

The present day German sugar ration, according to official statistics, is just about one-tenth of what we Americans eat. Their wheat ration is twenty-seven per cent lower than our wheat consumption, according to a report issued by the United States Food Administration for California. Their meat ration amounts to one-sixth of the meat we eat, while their fat ration is 4.7 per cent of ours. Yet we have every assurance that the Germans are sufficiently, even if not well, fed. Judging from the best reports available, their only serious shortage is fats, especially dairy fats, which bears hardest on the children, the report states. It follows in brief:

These figures mean either that we eat very much more of these foods than we actually need, or else that the German people so manage their supplies that they get more out of a given amount than we do, and so conserve their vital foods for vital needs.

There is a good deal of evidence that, in spite of three years' war and a world shortage, we are still regarding food from the point of view of our likes and not of our necessities. Take the recent sugar shortage as an example: We made quite a good deal of noise about that. Yet what was the truth of the matter? Why, that our ninety-pound-per-annum appetite for sugar was hit a blow. But the French are now on less than thirteen pounds, and the Italians are getting along on a nine-pound-a-year ration, while the English, who had a ninety-three-pound-a-year appetite for sugar, have cut to twenty-six pounds.

The fact that the English people can get along with no serious detriment to their health on a great deal less than a third of the sugar they used to consume, can only mean that a large part of that consumption was because of a national sweet tooth, and not a national need.

But, after admitting that, we must be very sure not to classify our demand for sugar altogether as a mere taste. Sugar is as necessary to the human body as coal is to a steam engine. It gives it energy. It gives it warmth. Clothes keep us warm. Sugar makes us warm.

And that puts it up to us this way: Many of the pounds of sugar we consume are over and beyond what we need, and represent taste only. We have on the scale before us our taste for sugar and the allies' need of it. To which side are we going to send the balances? Are we going to allow our national sweet tooth to gnaw at the warmth and energy of those who are paying the terrible price in suffering and sacrifice for the freedom of all of us from Germany's desire?—South Pasadena Record.

HARVARD'S BIG PROBLEM

The supreme court of Massachusetts decided a case of great importance to university development in its state when it forbade the merger of Harvard university and the Institute of Technology for the purpose of creating a great scientific school, jointly to be managed by the two institutions and thus to avoid building up two great schools of science side by side—actually within two miles of each other.

What, then, shall Harvard do? Perhaps there is a possibility of a subdivision of the field of science. New departments and new needs are constantly arising. Thus, at the institute they are just establishing a great department of marine architecture in consonance with the nation's new plans for a mercantile marine. For some time past the institute has been specializing in matters of aviation, even before the United States entered the war. It would seem, therefore, as if Harvard might select certain branches of science for its own and reach a friendly agreement with the institute in regard thereto. Whether anything like the present arrangement of having individual students carried simultaneously as attending both institutions can be again worked out is difficult to foretell. But if some such compromise is not arrived at, Harvard is likely to duplicate the institute needlessly, or to suffer from "undigested" millions and be recreant to her solemnly accepted trust. For by 1925 the McKay money will amount to no less than $23,000,000, some authorities even predicting that it will reach $30,000,000 by that time.—New York Post.

MAKE THE VISITORS WELCOME

The terrific storms that are now pervading the east and north are driving hundreds of people Californiawards each week. Many of these people who come here to escape the chilly blasts of the east will remain long after the expiration of the time limit on their tickets, if they are given the right encouragement. One of the principal things that should be looked after in regard to these people who come here for a time is to see that they are not "held up" every time they turn around—a trick that is usually accorded strangers in any place. If they are given the proper treatment here many of them will decide to remain and become citizens of this great country and help populate the great state of California. We need hundreds—even thousands—of people here and we should treat all visitors in such a manner that they will not want to leave.—Redondo Reflex.

F. D. Lanterman of La Canada, whose post office address is R. F. D. No. 13, Los Angeles, has a lot of very fine wood for sale. Several kinds. If in need of fuel call him. He will sell it by the cord.

Rev. Leslie Parker and family of Monrovia, were guests of their uncle, Samuel Parker, on Monday, his 87th birthday. Mr. Parker accompanied his guests to Monrovia and will visit with them for a few days.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet Thursday in the church parlors for all day. All ladies of the church are cordially invited to come and bring lunch with them. Sewing will be done for the new Methodist hospital.

John Collage spent last Sunday with his parents in the Chandler Tract and has quite recovered from his motorcycle accident. He has been at the camp hospital until permitted to come home and says he has had the best of care and attention there. Herbert Collage who is at Camp Kearny is in quarantine with measles.

Mr. Goodale, father of Mrs. R. D. King of 140 South Jackson street, has been taken to the French Hospital in Los Angeles to undergo an operation for appendicitis which has been set for this morning. Mrs. King has gone to Los Angeles to be with her mother during the period of anxiety.

Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Young of 112 North Kenwood street, who have been spending several months in the east, will arrive in Glendale February 1st. During their absence Dr. Young has been studying in the eastern clinics at Mayo Brothers in Rochester and in Chicago and New York. While he has been away Dr. O. A. Dieterich has had charge of the practice and he will remain in the office until Dr. Young's return.

VISITING DAY

Monday was visiting day in the grammar schools of Glendale. The teachers scattered to all the surrounding towns and sent representatives to Venice, Santa Monica, Alhambra, Pasadena and other nearby cities and will make written reports of what they observed to Superintendent Richardson D. White. They will also report at teachers' meetings in their individual schools.

Superintendent White spent his day investigating the Junior Red Cross situation and found that it is not yet fully organized anywhere in this vicinity. Most of the larger school districts of the county are working on it and expect to introduce definite Red Cross work into the course of study beginning in February.

RED CROSS NOTES

At Red Cross headquarters on Brand boulevard there was rejoicing this morning when the word went forth that the long, long delayed shipment of yarn from San Francisco had arrived. It was at once unpacked and will be distributed when the Knitting Department workers under Mrs. George D. Carter, chairman, assemble on Thursday.

Mr. Hush, the traveling representative of the Pacific Coast Headquarters of the Red Cross in San Francisco, spent Monday afternoon in Glendale looking over the work of the chapter. He is coming again to assist in the organization of a Junior Red Cross whenever the school authorities who have the matter in hand are ready for the conference.

Manager Lawshe who with the help of his friend Carson Taylor has been reorganizing the book keeping of the chapter according to the double entry system prescribed by the National Red Cross, states that in a few days he will be prepared to publish a complete list of all funds paid into the local treasury or due and owing as contributions pledged during the Red Cross drive. A systematic effort to collect the outstanding obligations will be made, as funds are needed to meet a bill of $1600 for the yarn shipment which has just arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCourt, of 110 South Central avenue, who conduct a manufacturing business in Los Angeles under the name Calnevar Shirt Company, have volunteered to cut for the Hospital Garment Department. This morning several bolts of the flannel received in the recent shipment from San Francisco were taken by them to Los Angeles from which pajamas will be cut for distribution to the workers at Glendale headquarters. This service will be a great help to the chapter.

Hubby—I see Mr. Edison says four hours' sleep is enough for any man, and he is the greatest inventor in the world.

Wife—Well, that doesn't justify you staying out half the night. The only great thing you ever did in that line is invent excuses.

CLASSIFYING INDEX

GLENDALE TEACHERS WILL BE ASKED TO PREPARE IT FROM QUESTIONNAIRES FILED

Chairman Lanterman arrived at Exemption Headquarters this noon and was warmly welcomed by Messrs. F. L. Muhleman and Olin Spencer who had been looking after the affairs of the Board, with the help of Mrs. Jackson, during his absence. Mr. Lanterman was needed on his ranch and took a day off.

Straggling Questionnaires are being received daily but there is still a big bunch to be heard from. Also affidavits and other evidence contributed by friends of boys in service is coming in and names are being stricken from the delinquent list. A name removed this morning was that of Benjamin F. Farley of Burbank, who is with Company F, 23d Engineers at Fort Meade, Maryland.

One of the requirements of the government in connection with the Questionnaires is an index which will be compiled from 47 different items on the Questionnaires filed with the Board which will classify the men according to the service for which they are best fitted. For instance a man who had been working as a machinist for several years, as shown by his Questionnaire, could be used to advantage by the government, if needed, in that kind of work.

Teachers in the Glendale Grammar and High Schools will be asked to give their services in the preparation of this index.

GOOD SOLDIERS

Officials of the Red Cross have been advised that there are "willing workers" who have been enrolled as members of the Red Cross who would gladly serve in some department work but who are waiting for the invitation which they imagine is a necessary preliminary.

To all such, notice is here given that the only invitation or credential required is a disposition to serve, and any woman who is willing to work for her country under the banner of the Red Cross will be given an opportunity if she will call at the Red Cross Headquarters over the Bank of Glendale on Brand boulevard. It is a busy place and Chairman Lawshe or Mrs. Blackburn, the cashier, may be temporarily occupied, but if the applicant will patiently wait a moment or two and spend the time chatting with the workers who are always assembled in one department or another, she will receive attention and be thankfully enrolled as a worker.

The Glendale chapter has not experienced as much trouble as have many Red Cross organizations from workers who would not follow instructions without deviating therefrom. Many untrained workers, particularly in knitting, are accustomed to making articles in a certain way and see no necessity for rigidly following the instructions of the government when it seems to them their own way is "just as good." The variation of a garment from the prescribed dimensions is another small matter of which they do not realize the importance.

But all these rules and regulations and specifications and directions have been laid down for the purpose of getting exactly the kind of an article the government wants, and when workers refuse to obey orders it makes trouble all along the line. The work they do cannot be accepted and somebody has to rip it out and do it over. This means not only double and wasted work, but wear and tear on the material.

So, all women are being urged to be good soldiers and do as they are told without grumbling and without asking why.

TOWARDS DEMOCRACY CLUB

Sunday morning, 10 a. m., at 1330 Brand boulevard.

The meeting held January 20, with Rev. N. J. Wright, president, postponed the discussion of International Democracy to be led by Dr. C. A. Webb for one week in order to hear Mr. Edgcomb Pincheon, of Los Angeles, lecture on A Modern Utopia; a country where there are no laws, no money, no prisons, no saloons, no drinking, no prostitution, no poverty, no wealth, but where happiness and brotherly love prevails. Mr. Pincheon with fine literary ability had prepared his lecture to lead up to greater and greater climaxes while he held the audience spell-bound by the true fairy-story that he was unfolding. As soon as he had finished he was overwhelmed with questions as to how to get to this fabulous country. The plan was at once suggested to invite Mr. Pincheon to give this lecture before a large audience in Glendale in the near future and adopted. Arrangements are to be made next meeting. Messrs. Durham, Marek, McQuivey, Mitchell, Paul, Webb, Nelson and others spoke briefly. Twenty-seven were present.

Next meeting Dr. Webb will lead in the discussion of International Democracy and Mrs. Robinson will speak on "Hope from Political Parties."

All interested are cordially invited.

TWO MORE MEETINGS

MEN AND MILLIONS TEAM ROUND UP THEIR WORK IN GLENDALE

The Men and Millions team rounded up their good work in Glendale last night. At 6:30 the young people of the Christian church were feasted by the women of the congregation, who furnished the eatables, cooked and then served them. Forty-two sat down to the tables which were beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns. Geo. W. Muckley, in charge of the work said this was the most perfectly appointed affair of the kind that he had witnessed in all his travels. After all the guests had satisfied their appetites the four speakers, Geo. W. Muckley and Messrs. Moon, Turner and Meldrum addressed the young people on their place in the church today and how to prepare for the work of the future.

At 8:15 the four men went over to C. E. Hutton's, 900 Colorado, where the Brotherhood Class and other members of the official board had met, and these talked to them on the every member canvass. Mr. Moon told of how the churches in Africa were taught to give—one-tenth of all their earnings to be turned over to the Lord as His right and the free will offerings to be handed in every Lord's day as their own gifts. He said often the free will offerings surpassed the tithings.

Mr. Turner spoke on preparing the congregation for the every member canvass by the pastor preaching sermons on stewardship and giving weeks in advance and gave examples from his own experience with congregations in Joplin, Mo., Peoria, Ill., and Yakima, Wash.

Mr. Meldrum spoke on preparing the men of the church for the canvass and the methods they should pursue in going about it.

Mr. Muckley closed with a general review of the subject from an experience of 27 years in the ministry and gave many illustrations showing how the canvass spiritualizes a church as well as increases its giving and how in one church the men were so enthused with their experiences that they demanded other work of the same kind with the result that they made an every member canvass for sinners and next for Sunday School pupils with great results in both cases. Mr. Muckley spoke briefly of the objects of the Men and Millions movement, which are men for the home and foreign work, money to sustain the work and lastly the undergirding of the church in every land to make its work effective.

The regular business meeting of the Brotherhood Class followed.

TROPICO RED CROSS AUXILIARY ORGANIZES CLASS IN SURGICAL DRESSINGS

A class in surgical dressings was organized Monday afternoon at the Tropico Red Cross Auxiliary under the instruction of Mrs. William Harvey Jr. One of the up-stairs offices has been fitted up with oil-cloth covered tables for the special use of the class which has also been equipped with a chest in which the work of the class can be stored away, and there is every prospect that it will do excellent work. The beginning class was large enough to fill the tables and manifested great interest and enthusiasm. One hundred compresses were made at this first lesson. Sewing machines have been moved into the main auditorium and the committee room adjoining has been converted into a stock room in which shelving has been put in by Mr. Rittenhouse as his contribution to the Red Cross.

Members of the class who were present for the first Surgical Dressing lesson were: Mrs. S. E. Brown, Mrs. C. H. Scheu, Mrs. C. A. Barker, Mrs. A. O. Gallup, Jessie Gallup, Mrs. Hal Davenport, Mrs. Tom Gaither.

Knitting was begun in the schools under the direction of Mrs. Curtis and the children are devising ways and means of raising the necessary funds for the organization of a Junior Red Cross. Children of the Ceritos School are resourceful and patriotic and contributed largely to the success of the Red Cross Bazaar from which the Auxiliary realized about $300 when all returns were in.

A school salvage department is also accomplishing considerable in accumulating stocks in tin and leadfoil, corks, newspapers, kid gloves, etc.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH

Recently at the request of the Rector the Bishop, Dr. Johnson, granted Mr. Eustace T. Young a Lay-Reader's license, and so now Mr. Young is Lay-Reader of St. Mark's church and assists the Rector in the services. At the last annual election of the Vestry, Harry H. Parker, 411 N. Kenwood street, was elected treasurer of St. Mark's church for the ensuing year. One year ago Mrs. Menzo Williams made the offer to the choir boys that the boy attending the most services for one year would receive from her five dollars. The choir director, Mrs. Bosserman, has kept an accurate marking dating from January 14th, 1917. The services that the choir have attended two boys have been present the same number of times. The director knowing the worthiness of each boy added another five dollars so that each boy received the same. Harry Speck, the Crucifer, and Richard Marshall attended

DRAFT BOARDS OPPOSED TO ENLARGEMENT OF EXEMPTION GROUNDS

In his report to the Secretary of War on the operations of the selective service law the Provost Marshal General says:

By an overwhelming majority the boards, both local and district, indicate that no additional grounds of exemption of discharge, other than those now recognized, should be provided. Indeed, about a dozen boards express the opinion that there are already too many grounds.

A few boards recommend that students of medicine, dentistry, engineering, and chemistry be exempted or discharged. But this proposal has been anticipated by recent amendments of the selective service regulations enabling such students to be entered in the Enlisted Reserve Corps pending the completion of their technical studies—a solution more effective for the purpose and more consonant with the spirit of the selective service system.

DECREASE IN ZINC OUTPUT AND ITS VALUE IN 1917

On the output of zinc during 1917 the Geological Survey reports: The zinc-mining and zinc-smelting industries started the year with every prospect of prosperity, although the price of spelter was below the average of the preceding year. During the last half of the year both the zinc smelters and the zinc miners were claiming that their operations were unprofitable because of the high general prices and the low price of spelter. In consequence a large part of the smelting capacity of the country was idle at the close of the year and there was a notable curtailment of output during the last quarter.

According to the best information now available, the recoverable zinc content of ore mined in the United States in 1917 was about 690,000 short tons, compared with 702,610 tons in 1916 and 605,915 tons in 1915.

fifty-five services during the year and received the gifts.

The other Sunday the Rector presented to the following young people, members of the choir, each a Parish Hymnal from the church for faithful attendance during the year: Master Lyman Bosserman for 51 services; Master Miles Ponton, 52 services; Master Robert Frey, 53 services; Master Charles Bosserman, 53 services; Master Winston Marshall, 53 services; Master James Frey, 54 services; Miss Helen Ponton, 54 services; Master Richard Marshall 55 services; Mr. Harry Speck 55 services. We think this is a remarkable record and we are all proud of our "Boy's Choir." Last Sunday at St. Mark's church is the only Episcopal organization in Glendale recognized by the Bishop and Diocese of Los Angeles, the Rector as clerical representative of the church and in fact the only representative of the church that was present at all the sessions of the 22nd Annual Convention of the Diocese, gave a resume of the work done at the convention which was very interesting. Next Sunday there will be taken an offering to go towards the $500,000 asked by our church as a War fund to help our chaplains in their work for our church boys in the army.

FORESIGHT

"I'm taking lessons from a man who teaches people how to remember."

"Is he pretty good?"
 "I guess so, but he doesn't seem to have much confidence in his methods."

"How's that?"
 "I notice he makes his students pay him in advance, so there will be no chance for them to forget to do it after they finish."

SAMMIES FIELD LAUNDRY READY FOR BUSINESS

By J. W. PEGLER

WITH THE AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY ARMY, FRANCE, Dec. 18. (By Mail.)—Uncle Sam is moving in his wash-tubs to wash the undershirts and things that come back from the trenches.

Wash-tubs are the main thing in the big salvage base which is just being finished in a city far back from the lines. There are also shoe-repair machines and machines for darning socks and patching breeches.

The Quartermaster took a broad look at the future in planning this base. He visualized hundreds of thousands of Sammies in the mud and filth of the trenches—battalions coming out every day wearing the same clothes, down to the last stitch, that they wore when they marched in. He saw that these out-coming battalions would need hot baths and clean clothes as much as rest and recreation.

They're going to get 'em—baths and clothes.

Back in the cities, "salvage" denotes a careening red fire-wagon piled high with water-proof blankets, with helmeted salvage-corps firemen clinging to the hand-rails.

Over here it's something else again. Salvage means repair, reclamation, saving.

There will be bath-stations just back of the front and each emerging battalion will have its "bath parade" on coming out. As they enter the building the Sammies will discard their duds—jackets, breeches, shoes, socks, shirts and underwear. They will go through the baths and come out in another room to find clean, dry clothes and sound shoes waiting for them.

Meantime the salvage folk will have gathered up the discarded clothing. First off, every garment will go through the "de-lousing" wagon, where steam baths will kill 'em.

Next the garments are piled into freight cars which come up to the line with supplies and otherwise might go back empty. At the base the Uncle Sam laundry thoroughly launders every garment and sends them on to other departments in the same plant for inspection and repair.

If a garment has been repaired several times before, most likely it will go into the discard. Otherwise it will be patched and sent forward for the next man who comes out, wet, muddy and craving to be clean again.

EQUIPMENT FOR MEN FIGHTING IN FRANCE CONTAINS MANY ARTICLES

It is estimated that 50,000 different articles are needed in modern warfare. The clothing equipment of but one infantryman for service in France includes the following:

Bedsack, three wool blankets, waist belt, two pairs wool breeches, two wool service coats, hat cord, three pairs summer drawers, three pairs winter drawers, pair wool gloves, service hat, extra shoe laces, two pairs canvas leggings, two flannel shirts, two pairs of shoes, five pairs wool stockings, four identification tags, summer undershirts, four winter undershirts, overcoat, five shelter tent pins, shelter tent pole, poncho, shelter tent.

Listed as "eating utensils" the infantryman receives food to be carried in his haversack during field service, canteen and canteen cover, cup, knife, fork, spoon, meat can, haversack, pack carrier, first aid kit and pouch.

His "fighting equipment" consists of rifle, bayonet, bayonet scabbard, cartridge belt and 100 cartridges, steel helmet, gas mask, and trench tool.

FOOD SUPPLY OF FRANCE AND NEUTRAL COUNTRIES ON DECLINE

According to the Food Administration, shortage of wheat in France is becoming more and more alarming each week. The minister of general revictualing indicated recently that a further reduction of 20 per cent in the bread ration would soon become imperative.

Denmark is now looking forward to a reduction of wheat rations. Final figures for a cereal harvest show a total of about 62,000,000 bushels, which is 20,000,000 bushels less than in 1916 and about 10,000,000 less than was estimated in the summer, when the populace was put on bread rations. The authorities are already considering a further reduction in the allowed consumption.

The food situation in Switzerland is rapidly falling to the danger line. A ration that is far below the consumption in many of the other countries at war has already been ordered. Under the new regulations the Swiss may have only a pound and a half of sugar per person per month. The bread ration has been fixed at about half a pound a day, and the butter ration at one-fifth of a pound a month.

GERMAN ALIEN ENEMIES IN U. S. MUST REGISTER

Among the regulations for the registration of German alien enemies in the United States during the first week of February, are the following: All German males of the age of 14 years and upward are required to register. Notice of time and place of registration will be given by publication in newspapers.

The affidavit of each registrant must be accompanied by four unmounted photographs, signed across the face so as not to obscure the features, and the finger prints of each registrant shall be taken.

Between 10 and 15 days after registration each alien enemy must again appear before his registration officer to obtain a registration card, which will bear his name and his left thumb print. This card must be carried by the registrant for future identification.

An alien enemy who changes his place of residence to another place within the same registration district must at once report the change to the registration officer. No alien enemy shall move out of the district without a permit. Application for a permit must be made upon a form furnished by the Department of Justice, giving full particulars as to date, reason for change, and intended place of residence.

REPORT OF PUBLIC EMPLOYMENT BUREAUS FOR 1917

For the year ending December 31, 1917, the public employment bureaus of the state of California successfully filled 92,959 positions, according to the report of John P. McLaughlin, Commissioner of Labor. This is an increase of 100 per cent over the 46,442 placements of 1916, which was the first year of their existence. If we include the additional 45,044 placements in Los Angeles City the public employment bureaus of the state have 138,003 placements to their credit for the year just ending.

San Francisco placed 39,795, of whom 3,375 were women and 36,420 were men; 15,557 were sent outside the city and 24,238 went to work in the city proper. Of the women, 1,509 were placed in hotels, apartment houses and restaurants, 998 in private homes, 54 in factories and 228 in clerical positions. Hotels and restaurants took 8,759 of the men, followed by transportation with 5,615; lumber and timber products with 3,231; agriculture with 1,859, and factories 1,633.

Oakland placed 11,459 men and 2,755 women. Of the women, 1,725 went into private homes and 636 into hotels, apartment houses and restaurants. These same industries took 1,768 men, followed by transportation with 1,289 and agriculture with 587. Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley accounted for 12,291 of the total, the balance of 1,923 going to outside points.

Sacramento's total of 11,313 comprised 10,879 men and 434 women. Of the women, 291 went into private homes and 99 into hotels, etc. Agriculture accounted for 3,253 of the men, followed by the lumber industry with 1,557 and transportation with 1,505. Of the total positions furnished, 3,079 were in Sacramento, and 8,234 were outside the city.

The Fresno office was only in operation a little over four months and placed 6,999 persons, of which number the women constituted 289. Fresno City took 1,895 and the surrounding country 5,104. Agriculture took 171 of the women, hotels 67 and private homes 47. Of the 6,710 men, 3,307 were placed in agriculture, followed by the lumber industry with 668 and building construction with 623.

The state placed 20,638 in the eight southern counties outside of Los Angeles City, and 45,044 more were placed by the city of Los Angeles, with whom the state is co-operating. Of this number, 4,050 were placed in agricultural pursuits.

Of the immense total of over 138,000 positions mentioned above, 13,425, or less than 10 per cent, were placed in agricultural pursuits, where the demand for labor has been greatest. The reason of this is largely because our bureaus have been situated too far from the farming communities to be of much relief to them. By cities, the percentages of agricultural to total placements run as follows: Oakland 4 per cent; San Francisco 5 per cent; Los Angeles 6 per cent; Sacramento 30 per cent and Fresno 50 per cent. In other words, the nearer we get to the farming community, the more assistance we are to them. The need of more offices was repeatedly called attention to, and at the last session of the legislature the Labor Commissioner asked for an appropriation of $50,000 yearly for the purpose of opening some new branches, but his recommendation was not heeded, and a merely nominal increase was given the department. As soon as the extra money was available, Governor Stephens immediately authorized the opening of the Fresno office, which was a great factor in supplying help to harvest the largest raisin grape crop on record.

Placements in Sacramento and Fresno cost about forty cents per person, as against an average of $1.80 charged by private fee agencies. Offices at such centers as Stockton, San Jose and other places in the farming communities of the state would go a long way toward getting help to put this year's crops in the barns and warehouses. Such offices could be conducted for seven months of the year at a cost of not over $3,000 each, including equipment.

It might be pertinent at this time to once more draw attention to the need of a reduced rate for farm workers who have to travel any appreciable distance. The need will be more urgent than ever this summer, and the chance of the request being granted should be greater on account of the taking over of the railroads by the federal government. The farming communities, when labor is most needed, are always in competition with the proposition of free or advanced fares. Of the 8,689 men furnished to the transportation companies, all were given free fare, and the fare was advanced to practically all of the 6,099 men taken by the lumber companies, besides hundreds of men furnished to large contractors. Even with an equal offer in wages, the farmer is practically in a losing position as against the lumber interests, railroad companies and contractors in such cases.

NEW THOUGHT

"Biblical Authority for New Thought." Last Sunday morning Dr. Riley spoke at 11 o'clock at Masonic Temple on the above subject.

"In our Bible is found the truth which comes from men inspired, although I believe that truth is to be found in all scriptures. Nevertheless, as we are Christians, brought up in a Christian land, the Christian's Bible appeals to us and seems to contain the truth more than any other.

"I should want to be a New Thought student because of the scientific side of New Thought. The philosophical and ethical aspects appeal to me also but the religious worth is most important of all.

"No matter how brilliant you are, how philosophical or moral, unless you have spirituality you are not what you should be. He who has the brilliant mind but lacks soul can do as much harm as good with his powers. A truth perverted becomes evil.

"This book tells us how to renew and transform the mind power, how to come into touch with the spiritual.

"I shall give some passages from the Bible upon which we may base some of the fundamentals of New Thought. Ps. 34-8, 'O, taste and see that the Lord is good.' God is good, only good. We do not believe evil to be more powerful than good. Evil or mistakes are due to our want of knowledge of God, the Great Principle. Evil is not sent by God but created by man. Ps. 100-5, 'For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations.' In order that God may be Law, he must be Truth. The absence of truth is negation or what we call evil.

"Habakuk 1-13, 'Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil and canst not look on iniquity.' If God can see evil or behold iniquity why pray to him when we are in trouble? If you are in a dark room sighing for the light, and you neither pull up the shades nor turn on the light, it does not prove that there is no light. You must change your whole idea of prayer to become a New Thought student. You must realize what you really are now, the divinity within; your inner spiritual self is your real self. In your prayers you must realize this spiritual power, you must turn on the light. Don't ask for health and love, realize that you have them. Ask that you may see with clear eyes the truth and realize the powers within you.

"St. John 8-44 speaks of the devil having no truth in him. Devil in the old Sanscrit language means negation. In the peasants' houses of Italy, the walls are decorated with pictures of devils with forks casting people into flames. The people are brought to God through fear. We believe in bringing people to God through love and understanding. There is no truth in ignorance; ignorance is the absence of intelligence.

"Where did evil come from? If God is good and man made in his image, where did evil arrive? What is the object of life? The object of life is to evolve, to grow, to develop, to get experience in order that we may make truth our own. If you try to shield children on every side, they cannot develop properly. We are here to control, to conquer, to make truth our own through practice.

"Step by step, rung by rung of the ladder of life you arrive. You are like the tiny germ in the egg with the possibilities of growth into the full grown chick. You are the image of God in miniature; you at present may be surrounded by the shell of limitation and ignorance.

"Why search for the origin of evil. It is like searching for nothing. You commit evil because you don't understand, and you don't understand because you are unevolved, and you are unevolved because it is the scheme of existence. You are not like a clock wound up, you have free will, you can think.

"Gen. 1:31. 'And God saw everything he had made, and behold, it was very good.' All that God makes is good and beautiful and wonderful. John 6:63, 'It is the spirit that quickeneth, the flesh profiteth nothing; the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit and they are life.'

"Romans 12:2, 'Be ye transformed by the renewing of your minds.' Think beautiful thoughts, read inspiring books and even the old body cells can be replaced by new.

"My subject next Sunday will be 'A Wise Man Rules His Stars' and we will try to learn how to evolve and control our destinies."

Mrs. U. F. Newlin sang a beautiful selection, "Like As the Hart" accompanied by Mrs. W. M. Kimball.

The winter of 1916-17 was the most disastrous the range stockmen of the West have ever known. The lamb crop for the entire West was 15 to 20 per cent below the average, and the calf crop was considerably below normal.

Government barges have been placed in service on the Upper Mississippi, and through Government assistance a new fleet is to be built for this service. Sugar is being moved by barge from Louisiana plantations to New Orleans.

WOMAN TAKES COURSE IN FORESTRY IN OREGON

A generation ago a young woman would have startled her parents if she had quietly announced at the dinner table:

"Well, I have decided to take up forestry."

But that is exactly the profession which Miss Grace Pickens, of La Grande, Oregon, has chosen for herself, according to the December number of American Forestry. She has registered to take the complete forestry course at the University of the State of Washington. Other women have taken selected forestry courses in the school, but Miss Pickens is the first to specialize in a work which has been considered exclusively a man's calling.

WAR GARDEN IDEA SPREADING OVER WORLD

The way in which the home garden and food conservation idea is reaching into every corner of the world is shown by requests for garden data which are received by the National Emergency Food Garden Commissions of Washington. Herbert T. Gill, manager of the Allen Orchard Estates at Ramgarh, Kumaun, U. P., India, has written to ask for these booklets of instruction on canning vegetables and drying fruits; and a similar request has come from Mrs. W. R. Howse, whose home is at Papeete, Tahiti, one of the Society Islands.

POLICEMEN PLANT GARDENS

Ten policemen at Pueblo, Colorado, raised food valued at $1,000 on a vacant lot near the station, according to a report received today by the National Emergency Food Garden Commission. "They are making plans for a bigger garden," says P. S. Ridsdale, the secretary of the Commission who is receiving requests for garden primers from all over the country.

NEWARK MADE BIG RECORD

The Vacant Lot and Yard Association of Newark, New Jersey, raised food valued at $114,000, according to the annual report received today by the National Emergency Food Garden Commission from Carl Banwart. Bigger plans than ever are being made for the 1918 campaign. Secretary P. S. Ridsdale of the National Emergency Food Garden Commission is getting requests for garden primers from all over the country.

Just as a Mighty Oak

Can grow from a small acorn,—so can a fortune grow from a small bank account.

Both when well started have a steady growth. You can start your account this month. Even though it be a small one at first, if you will steadily add to it in a few years you will have a capital worth working for.

If you live in Glendale, make up your mind to start an account in this Glendale Bank and watch your money grow with the bank and the town.
